

PENNSYLVANIA DOG FOUND IN OREGON IS HEADED HOME

Gidget is going back to Pennsylvania.

A Jack Russell terrier that ended up in Oregon more than four months after she went missing from her home near Philadelphia is going to be flown home.

A microchip in Gidget allowed a shelter near Portland to find the dog's owner.

Shelter manager Deborah Wood said PetLink, the company that made the microchip, offered to pay for her flight.

